DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(c), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(c) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 10/16/08 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bompard et al (5484642) in view of Vane (5445693).

As seen for example in figure 4, the disclosure of Bompard et al teaches the fabric as claimed including a plurality of substantially aligned fiber elements arranged in fiber element groups (as shown above), each of said fiber element groups having one or more fiber elements (32c) wherein a portion of said groups contain two or more fiber elements, and wherein the spacing between fiber elements within a element group is less than the spacing between adjacent element groups. Also note cross section figure 4 shows that each fiber element has a longitudinal axis and the longitudinal axes of said fiber elements are in a coplanar relationship. However, the fiber elements of Bompard are set forth as yarns rather than tows. Vane teaches a reinforcing fabric which is formed from tows, yarns or threads. One of ordinary skill in the art is aware that fiber tows are drafted and/or spun to form yarns. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the threads of Bompard et al as tows as shown by Vane in order to provide bundles of parallel monofilaments which eliminates the yarn forming step, i.e. spinning. Concerning the specific number of the tows, it would have been obvious the time the invention was made to choose a specific number of tows, i.e. odd or even, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the number of a component and in order to provide the number which brings about the optimal strength, flexibility, hand, etc.. Concerning the spacing between the tows, it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to provide the tows with a specific spacing in order to find the spacing that brings about the optimal fabric strength.
